

MICHAEL J. GELLER*Alumni Honoree*

“JHP provided me with an important introduction to further involvement in Judaism beginning freshman year at Penn. After attending my first event, I was hooked by the combination of social and spiritual experiences which allowed me to further explore my Jewish background. During my time at Penn, I found my experiences with JHP added an invaluable dimension to my college experience. Through events such as Shabbas for 2000 and New York Mentoring Retreat, interactions with mentors in my anticipated profession, and spiritual leadership from Menachem, Ephraim and Levi, JHP was responsible for some of my best experiences in college. I am still in awe of the size and scope of JHP’s impact. Going forward, I am confident the program will be able to reach students and allow them to flourish under the leadership of JHP.”
